MEMBERS OF BOARD OF INVESTIGATION

One From England, Russia and France.

Russia Will Be Satisfied With Result—A Danish Statement of Jap Ships.

NO NEW DEVELOPMENTS

London, Oct. 31.—Reports current relative to the board of inquiry into the North Sea affair, will consist of one Russian, one English and one French official or person of high position. This report is not confirmed, but it is considered partially true. It is thought likely that two persons from two smaller powers may be added to the list.

INTERCEPT COLLIERIES.
Gibraltar, Oct. 31.—The British fleet
has been ordered to patrol the straits and intercept all British colliers and bring them here. It is also ordered to escort all mail boats.

ENGLISH CABINET MEETS.
London, Oct. 31.—The cabinet will meet this afternoon to consider points in the inquiry into the North Sea affair.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 31.—Whatever may be the finding of the international tribunal which is to investigate the firing on the British trawlers by the Baltic squadron, it can be said with practical certainty that Admiral Rojestvensky will not go east in command of the fleet.
There is good reason to believe that he already has asked to be relieved from the command, and while his request probably will not be granted until after the present trouble has been finally passed upon, there is little doubt but that his recall will be granted.

Russia will go into the arbitration in perfect good faith, and if the court decides that any of his officers, no matter who they may be, have been guilty of action demanding punishment, the necessary punishment will be promptly inflicted. The czar, however, is firmly convinced of Rojestvensky's good faith and is confident of his ability to prove it.
Admiral Skrydloff may be called home
from Vladivostok to succeed Rojestvensky.

THIS MAN "SAW THINGS."
Paris, Oct. 31.—The Petit Journal's Lorient (France) correspondent says:
"The captain of a Danish schooner,
which has arrived from the North Sea, declares that when he was forced to put in at an English port owing to the stress of weather, he saw steam trawlers taking Japanese and explosives aboard, openly."

ENGLAND'S REPRESENTATIVE.
London, Oct. 31.—General Balfour, president of the board of trade, has appointed Admiral Sir Cyprian Bridge and Butler Aspinall to conduct the North Sea inquiry at Hull.

SHELLED BRITISH COLLIER.
Berlin, Oct. 31.—The Frankfurter Zeitung has a dispatch from Tangiers saying that officers of the Baltic fleet there admit that while coming to Tangier they shelled a British collier carrying no lights. The result of the bombardment is unknown.

MISTOOK HIS OWN VESSELS.
London, Oct. 31.—The possibility that Admiral Rojestvensky fired on his own torpedo boats in the North Sea, mistaking them for Japanese, is obtaining considerable credence in London, and on the continent this view is taken in several of the papers which seem to believe the theory.

TWO DIE

SUDDEN SUMMONS OF MINISTERS
YESTERDAY.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 31.—Two preachers dropped dead in pulpits yesterday. At Newport News, Va., Rev. William H.
Mitchell, of Portsmouth, Va., died of apoplexy, while preaching in the Holieness church.

At Wrightville, Pa., Rev. S. H. Hess, Dunkard, dropped dead while delivering a funeral oration.

Attorney Sam Crossland, of Mayfield, is in the city today on business.

GREAT EXCITEMENT IN MEMPHIS TODAY

Continental Bank Building Collapsed This Morning.

Many Were Buried But Several Were Taken Out Alive.

SOME MAY BE DEAD

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 31.—The big brick four-story Continental building at No. 19 Madison street, containing twenty or more occupants, collapsed
this morning. It was an office structure.
The collapse was caused by the foundations becoming weak from excavations on the adjoining lot for the fifteen story Tennessee Trust building.

Eight persons have been recovered, all alive, but several are thought to be dead
in the ruins.

Those rescued are: Frank D. M.
Schas, president of Continental Savings bank. Mr. Schas was not injured, but appeared to be dazed, probably from the effect of a blow upon the head.

Frank Baum, cashier, of the same bank, uninjured.

Clarence Henochberg, teller of the same bank, leg badly injured.
J. W. Stotts, of Stotts, Dean & Co., real estate dealers, badly bruised about the face.

JAP MINISTER

Is in a Serious Condition in New York.

Was Operated on Yesterday for Appendicitis.

New York, Oct. 31.—An operation for appendicitis was performed on Japanese Minister Kogoro Takahara in his hotel
yesterday.

The case is said to be serious, and attaches of the Japanese legation at Washington have been summoned to his bedside.

Mr. Takahara arrived from Washington on Friday night, and immediately after being assigned to a room at the hotel complained of illness and asked that a physician be sent for.

The disease was positively diagnosed as appendicitis and an immediate operation was decided on.

This morning it was stated that Minister Kogoro Takahara is holding his own, and doing as well as could be expected. His condition, however, is considered very serious and he cannot be pronounced out of danger for three days,
at least.

NO SETTLEMENT

MANAGER ENGLISH IS STILL IN HENDERSON, KY.

Manager James E. English, of the Kentucky, who has had a disagreement at Henderson with the resident manager of his new theatre, may remain several days longer, as at last accounts nothing had been done towards reaching an agreement, but something was expected to happen at any time. It is understood that Mr. English has now in possession of his friends all the stock except the $5,000 owned by Resident Manager Hal-lam, which gives him control. The only thing is whether or not Hallam's contract entitles him to remain as manager.
There has been talk of one faction buying out the other, but no developments are reported since last week.

Dr. Delia Caldwell returned from Hickman today at noon, where she had been called on professional business.

Mr. Frank Baskette went to Greenville, Ky., today at noon on business.

Attorney D. H. Hughes went to Henderson today at noon on business.

THE HAGUE MEETING SUBJECT OF A NOTE

Secretary Hay Has Sent to Our Representatives.

The Object of President Roosevelt's Recent Suggestion Is Detailed.

TO CONSIDER ARBITRATION

Washington, Oct. 31.—In a circular note Secretary Hay has carried out the president's instructions relative to proposing a second Hague conference. The note not only contemplates reassembling of The Hague conference for the consideration of questions specifically mentioned by the original conference as demanding further attention, such as the rights and duties of the neutral, the inviolability of private property in naval warfare and the bombardment of forts by a naval force, but goes further by endorsing a project of a general system of arbitration treaties and the establishment of an international congress to meet periodically in the interests of peace.

The issuance of the call while the present war is in progress is justified
by the fact that the first Hague conference was called before our treaty of peace with Spain was concluded.

The note is addressed to the representatives of the United States accredited to the governments signatories to the acts of The Hague conference of 1899,
with the request that they confer thereupon with the foreign ministers of the various states.

The note first reviews the objects and results of the first Hague conference and then gives great credit to the inter-parliamentary union which was started from a suggestion of a member of the British house of commons in 1888. He reviews its valuable work toward peace and the result of its recent meeting at St. Louis, quoting the resolution there asking that President Roosevelt call a second Hague conference for consideration of certain questions therein quoted.

In regard to the war between Russia and Japan the note suggests that
"the fact of existing war is no reason why nations should relax the efforts
they have so successfully made heretofore toward the adoption of rules of conduct which may make more remote the chances of future wars between them."

WORLD'S FAIR ATTENDANCE.
St. Louis, Oct. 31.—Attendance at the world's fair last week was 749,368. Total for the whole fair, 15,933,283.

Mr. William Parham, the coal dealer, returned from Mayfield today at noon.

EXCITING TIMES

Debates are Fraught With Excitement.

President Threatened With Personal Violence.

Madrid, Oct. 31.—Prolonged and tumultuous scenes have occurred in the chamber of deputies during the debate on proposals for the prosecution of certain deputies. When the discussion was resumed Saturday the disorders consequent on the oppositions obstructive tactics compelled the suspension of the sitting and the appointment of a secret committee to give judgment concerning insults exchanged during the debate.

The sitting was subsequently resumed.
The opposition repeatedly demanded roll calls on votes and the proceedings were heated and disorderly. The president being threatened with personal violence;
had to be protected by clerks and attendants. The crucifix behind the president's chair was overturned by blows of sticks; all writing material on adjacent desks was swept to the floor, and ink stands were flung at the vice president. Premier Maura was present on the ministerial bench from 7 o'clock in the evening, declaring he would not leave till the sitting adjourned, which did not occur till late this evening.

It is reported that Premier Maura will suspend sittings and ask the chamber of deputies for a vote of confidence.

A PANAMA RESIGNATION.

Panama, Oct. 31.—The resignation yesterday of Thomas Arias, secretary of state of the Republic of Panama, apparently ends the division of political parties here. Pablo Arsemena, leader of the opposition, said:

"Opposition to President Amador's government is impossible now."

It is reported that Santiago Guardia, minister to Costa Rica, will replace Arias.

Capt. J. E. Mason has gone to Creal
Springs for a two months' stay.

ACTIVE FIGHTING AGAIN RESUMED

Japanese Bombarded a Portion of the Russian Line.

The Soldiers Camp Within a Short Distance of Each Other in Places.

NO GENERAL ENGAGEMENT

St. Petersburg, Oct. 31.—A dispatch received today from Gen. Sakharoff reports that yesterday's early quiet ended in the bombardment of the Russian right by Japanese yesterday evening. The dispatch reads: "We repulsed the Japanese attack on our entrenchments north of Linshui. The Japs bombarded our right throughout yesterday evening."

SOME NIGHT ATTACKS.

Tokio, Oct. 31.—A report from the Manchurian army headquarters records
a successful night attack against a Russian outpost at Wumingsun and two unsuccessful counter attacks made by the Russians. The report follows:

"On the night of Oct. 28, a small force of the enemy attacked Waitao mountain, but were immediately repulsed.
Oct. 29 at 3 o'clock in the morning a detachment of infantry was dispatched from the center army against Wumingsun.
The enemy was surprised and houses occupied by the enemy set on fire. Wumingsun is situated midway between the outposts of both armies.
Using the place as a base, the enemy made frequent night attacks against our outposts.

"On the night of Oct. 28, a force of the enemy of unknown strength attacked the eminence near Santackangzu,
but was immediately repulsed."

ONLY DESULTORY FIGHTING.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 31.—Gen. Kuropatkin
has telegraphed under date of Oct. 29:

"I have received today no dispatch reporting encounters with the enemy. During a cavalry reconnaissance yesterday
after an infantry fight supported by artillery we occupied the village of Chiantsatheman. The enemy has retired from Sindiapi. On Oct. 28, our chasseurs, with insignificant losses, regained a village a kilometer west of Chenliapiu against a violent Japanese bombardment."

Gen. Kuropatkin also records other outpost affairs, including the Russian reoccupation of the village of Tynsin, a short distance south of Luidiatung, whence they had previously been expelled by the Japanese, who burned the village.

WAITING FOR STORM TO BREAK.

Mukden, Oct. 31.—There have been a number of skirmishes along the whole front, but no development of any serious import has yet appeared. Though the armies are in the closest touch and a general engagement may be precipitated at any time. At one point the trenches are only 400 yards apart. They are separated by a small stream which is the only water supply in the neighborhood.
By consent there is no firing on water carriers, who visit the stream with buckets.

Several positions have already changed hands many times.

Yesterday was unusually quiet along the whole front. The Russians are in the habit of harassing the Japanese in the trenches at night. Saturday night Russian scouts threw a hand grenade into a Japanese trench near Sinchipsu, causing great confusion.

THIRD ATTACK ON PORT ARTHUR.

Chefoo, Oct. 31.—The third general attack on Port Arthur began Oct. 24. On Oct. 26 Japanese shells set fire to the only smokeless powder magazine in Port Arthur. Portions of the town caught fire, the conflagration continuing the whole day. On Oct. 26 the Japanese captured Russian trenches on the slope of Kihlung mountain, also a fortified position protecting that fortress. The Japanese hold the progress of the siege to be highly satisfactory.

NEARING HIS FINISH.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 31.—The military situation has not developed anything of great importance, though the fight at the Buddhist temple hill on Oct. 21, appears to have been a decided heavy engage-

A SWING AROUND THE HOOSIER STATE

Senator Fairbanks Started on His Tour Today.

Remains of Former President Kru-zer Leave for Last Resting Place in South Africa.

LATE TELEGRAPHIC NEWS

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 31.—Senator
Fairbanks left this morning on a special train for a tour of Indiana. His itinerary today covers a dozen cities.

OOM PAUL'S BODY.

The Hague, Oct. 31.—The remains of former President Kruger, of the Transvaal republic, who died in July, were taken to Rotterdam today, for conveyance to South Africa, aboard the steamer Batavia.

ROBBED A CAR.

Paris, Oct. 31.—The mail car of the Brest Express, was robbed yesterday and the mail bags were ripped open and the contents stolen. No arrests were made.

THROWN INTO COKE OVEN.

Masontown, Pa., Oct. 31.—Steve Bork employed at the Bessemer coke plant, reported to the authorities today that late last night he saw a man thrown into a coke oven and cremated. Bork says he saw three men scuffling on top of an oven, and a moment later saw two of them jump to the ground and disappear in the darkness. Just then flames issued from the oven as though fuel had been tossed into it. Coroner Hagan today ordered the oven drawn, when blackened human bones and teeth were found. The murdered man and his assailants are unknown.

ment. It probably indicates that final moves on both sides are now occurring preparatory to another long and serious battle.

Viceroy Alexieff is now on his way to St. Petersburg. The nature of his reception is food for much calculation.
Some of his friends still cling to the idea that he will be made chancellor of the empire with his residence in the Winter palace, where, it is said, a suite of apartments has already been prepared for him. On the other hand, many declare that his political career is over and that his reception at St. Petersburg, while officially cordial, will make the end of his political ascendancy. It is rumored that the vice-royalty of the Caucasus will be revived for his special benefit, which would constitute a complimentary and comfortable sort of exile.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 31.—Sunday passed quietly at the front. The Japanese forces, apparently, have some more on foot but its exact object is unknown. A flanking movement is daily expected.

A MINE KILLS SEVERAL.

Nagasaki, Oct. 31.—A mine exploded in Moji harbor yesterday while being carried ashore from the steamer Dainichiy Oda Maru. The steamer was badly damaged and ten of the crew were killed or injured.

RUSSIAN-BELGIAN TREATY.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 31.—Russia and Belgium have signed a treaty which makes it obligatory that all matters which come up for discussion between the two signatory nations, be submitted to arbitration.

JAPS BEING REINFORCED.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 31.—Gen. Kuropatkin
reports Japanese reinforcements from the south and Fenk Wan Cheng from whence it may be concluded that the enemy is completing grouping its forces for taking the offensive. The enemy is moving from west to east.

A HEAVY BOMBARDMENT.

Mukden, Oct. 31.—From an early hour
this morning there has been heavy bombardment of Poudloff and "Lone Tree" hill, by the Japanese.

NEARING PORT ARTHUR.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 31.—Gen. Stoessel, commander of Port Arthur, reports that the Russians repulsed an attack on the North front Oct. 16, and adds: "The enemy is approaching our forts by an entrenchment drawn very close to the outside defenses. Our troops are fighting heroically, notwithstanding difficulties and privations."

KENTUCKY NEWS TOLD IN PARAGRAPHS

DEATH AT FULTON.

Fulton, Ky., Oct. 31.—Mr. L. V. Cox, aged 74, died here from typhoid fever, leaving a wife and four children. His son, Frank, died two months ago from typhoid and his father became ill from it a short time afterwards.

KENTUCKY EDITOR KILLED.

Guthrie, Ky., Oct. 31.—News has just reached here from Texas that Mr. J. H. Dearborn, formerly editor and proprietor of the Guthrie Graphic, and who disappeared from here some time ago, had been found dead. No particulars have been learned, as the news came through a telegram addressed to the city marshal, making inquiries as to his relatives. He has no relatives here, and was identified by papers found in his pocket.

LOST IN THE MINES.

Morganfield, Ky., Oct. 31.—At the Davis coal mine, three miles from this place, the gasoline engine exploded Saturday, and, in the gas and smoke which filled the mine, eight miners lost their way. Seven of the eight men crawled out nearly suffocated several hours later. The eighth man fell into a pool of water and when rescuers reached him was almost dead.

DANGEROUSLY INJURED.

Madisonville, Ky., Oct. 31.—Two men were dangerously injured in one day by a disc harrow. The accident occurred on the farm of A. L. Jago, near Manito, this county. The harrow was one of those which require that the driver stand on it and the jolting shook two men from the standing board and threw them under the grinding wheels or discs. Otho Rogers was the first to try manipulating the harrow, and he was thrown off and considerably mangled. The next man up was Cornelius Pinkerton, and when he was jolted off he fell under the wheels and several dangerous gashes were cut in his back.

A WAITER ARRESTED.

Fulton, Ky., Oct. 31.—Ben Terrell, a negro waiter on the Illinois Central dining car on train No. 2, from Memphis was arrested here by Special Officer L. C. Robertson and Marshal McDade, charged with stealing a watch from a baggage man on the train between Fulton and Obion. Esquire Wade tried Terrell and sent him to jail at Union City to await the grand jury. Conductor Chap Turner saw the theft committed.

WILL COST $15,000.

Madisonville, Ky., Oct. 31.—The new home for the Hopkins County Young Men's Christian Association, which is to be erected in this city, is now assured. It is proposed that the building shall cost $15,000 and $13,000 of this amount has been raised. Plans and specifications have already been drawn up.

FRANKFORT MAN DIES.

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 31.—D. M. McHenry, 67 years of age, died after several months' suffering, following a stroke of paralysis. He served sixteen years in the department of the state auditor, was deputy under General Fayette Hewitt, and the late Major L. C. Norman, and was originally from Daviess county. He also served under Auditor Coulter and Treasurer Hager. He leaves a daughter, Miss Susie McHenry.

KILLED OVER POLITICS.

Madisonville, Ky., Oct. 31.—A political argument terminated in murder here Saturday when Ferdinand Lutz was killed by a board wielded by Jeff Morgan, also a farmer. The men argued over politics and a quarrel followed, Morgan picking up a fence board and telling Lutz.

BOY ARRESTED ON GRAVE CHARGE.

Madisonville, Ky., Oct. 27.—A capture was made by Miss Cora Martin, assistant postmaster at this place, which has created considerable excitement.

ment. West Armstrong, son of A. Armstrong, was captured by the lady and turned over to the authorities for taking letters and valuable packages from postoffice boxes, many having been missed in the past, and the 12-year-old boy was caught in the act.

Judge Bradley agreed to release the boy on $1,000 bond for his appearance in court but Postmaster Virgil Bacon has refused to release him until the matter has been reported to the head of the department, saying he will be held responsible by the department. The boy is of good family.

AUDITOR'S MOTHER DEAD.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 31.—Mrs. William R. Hager, the widowed mother of State Auditor S. W. Hager, died at her home in Salersville from pneumonia. She was 68 years of age. Auditor Hager, who is chairman of the Democratic State Campaign Committee, was called to her bedside last Monday. The death of Auditor Hager's mother constitutes a sad coincidence in the campaign, as his father died during the state campaign of 1903.

MODERN WATERWORKS.

Madisonville, Ky., Oct. 31.—A vote will be taken in this city at the regular election November 8, to determine if the city of Madisonville shall install a new and modern water works system. This election is creating some little excitement. The city council has arranged for a levy of $5,000 to provide for the erection of the plant and the laying of the pipe line through the streets. A hard fight is being made, as the citizens of the city are already heavily taxed.

IS SINKING

FEARED THE VENERABLE FATHER OF DR. FRANK BOYD IS DYING.

The many friends of Mr. J. W. Boyd, father of Dr. Frank Boyd, of the city will regret to learn that he is rapidly sinking and is not expected to survive the day.

Mr. Boyd and wife, who reside in McLeansboro, Ill., were attending the fair in St. Louis when the gas jet in the room they were sleeping in, began leaking and the fumes of the gas rendered both sleepers unconscious.

Mrs. Boyd was not affected so seriously as her husband, as she soon regained consciousness and has been moved home to McLeansboro, but Mr. Boyd, whose condition was precarious from the first, has been moved to a hospital and at last reports was rapidly sinking.

Dr. Frank Boyd is in St. Louis attending the bedside of his father.

This afternoon more encouraging news was received from Dr. Boyd. He telephoned from St. Louis that his father showed signs of improvement. If he continues to improve, Dr. Boyd expects to return to Paducah tomorrow night.

ASKS DAMAGES.

Nelson Vaughan, colored, has filed suit against Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Eubanks for $5,000 damages for alleged false arrest and imprisonment. He alleges he was arrested by Captain Joe Woods and Patrolmen Rogers and Dick Woods, on Sunday, October 23, and kept in the lockup for five hours. It is claimed he was arrested on suspicion of having taken a coat belonging to Dr. Eubanks.

VERY ANNOYING.

This Hardly Expresses What Paducah People Say of It.

Any itching of the skin is annoying. Little danger in itching skin diseases. But they make you miserable.

Doan's Ointment is a never-failing cure.

For Piles, Eczema, all itching troubles.

Paducah citizens endorse it.

J. R. Womble, of 1005 South Fourth street, carpenter by trade, says: "For six years itching hemorrhoids were the bane of my existence. During the day when overheated I suffered and at night my rest was disturbed. I tried everything about which I read or which friends and acquaintances advised me to try, still the hemorrhoids existed. The first application of Doan's Ointment procured at DuBois, Kolb & Co's drug store gave me relief. After the second day's treatment I slept the succeeding night like a child. It is nearly three months since I stopped the use of Doan's Ointment and there has been no sign of a return. This should leave no doubt in the minds of Paducah people about the merits claimed for that preparation."

SWEET MARIE GOES TO CLARKSDALE

Dispute Over the Hopkinsville Player Settled.

The K. I. T. League Franchise at Henderson Goes Back To Zimbro.

SOME OTHER BASEBALL NEWS

The baseball commission now meeting in New York has awarded Angelo Marre of the Hopkinsville club to Clarksdale, Miss., and if he plays league ball next season he will have to play with that team. Marre wanted to come here next season but this will keep him from it. Minneapolis, of the American association, was also after him but there is only one way to get him and that is by purchase.—Vincennes Capital.

This week's Sporting News has an excellent picture of the Buffalo team champions of the Eastern league. In the bunch can be seen King Brockett formerly of Cairo. The News also contains a breezy letter from Henderson relative to Kitty league affairs. The Henderson franchise has been transferred by its owners, the Henderson Street Railway Company, to Jacob Zimbro Jr. owner of the grounds, and the franchise of 1903.

O. W. (Peck) Butler in dispute between Clarksdale, Miss., where he played during the past season, Augusta, Ga., and Memphis has been awarded to Augusta. Butler has been drafted by St. Paul and the only difference it makes to the Saints is an increase of $100 in the draft price, as Augusta is a member of the South Atlantic league of class C, whereas, Clarksdale of the Delta league is a member of class D. Butler's stick work will prove valuable to Lemon's aggregation, as it will be easy for Peck to lam 'em over the top of the wire netting on top of the right-field fence of the St. Paul ballpark. He was in the Jackson K. I. T. team two seasons ago.

If the national commission apropos of the new measure passed by the National Association establishing a new class to be known as class AA and the raising of the draft price for players in all grades, it will work a positive hardship alike to young professional players and clubs, says the Cairo Bulletin. The price for players in class C instead of $200 as at present, is raised to $400. Very few players in class D will be drafted, thus denying them the chance of advancement, at the same time the price will prohibit the club from realizing upon its assets, as there is something beside sentiment in the business and it is perfectly justifiable to sell players when otherwise a loss will result through operating it season in and season out, and it can be said that no club in class D is operated without financial loss, the sentiment in every community, backed up by cold, hard cash making it possible for such clubs to exist. Far better had the National Association amended its constitution so as to permit each club to carry more players, and at the same time raise the salary limit. Take for instance, the Kitty league, a member of class D. Under the present constitution no club in class D is permitted to carry exclusive of a non-playing manager more than 11 players with a monthly salary limit of $800. In the first case it is a well-known fact that the rule applying to both the number of players and salary limit is openly violated, not only by leagues of class D but by leagues of all classes. Clubs in class D play just as many games as class A and B and the players work just as hard honestly and faithfully, and in many instances afford the patrons better, cleaner and faster ball than even the article put up by the two major leagues. And since class D plays as many consecutive games, why should it not be allowed to have as many players under contract. Again, the carrying of more players would necessitate a raise in the salary limit. Really, to get through the season in good style all clubs have under contract at one time no less than 14 players and the salary limit for clubs in class D should be raised to $1,000 per month.

Disease germs feed upon impurities in the blood. They cannot live in pure blood. Therefore cleanse the blood and you get rid of all ailments. People do not become interested in these subjects until falling health or a distressing outbreak of the skin reminds them of the necessity of their ignorance. American association, for next season.

Pettit is working in Paducah at the I. C. shops and stated yesterday that he had received an offer for a position on the St. Paul team next season. "I have sent my terms and they have been accepted, but still I am undecided as to sign. If I can get my batting average and fielding average so that the St. Paul management can see just where I stand," he explained, "I would feel more like signing. I don't want to go in a bigger league and then not make good."

Pettit's many friends here are urging him to go, as he is one of the best catchers in the league. Pettit has a good wing, excellent headwork, and is, moreover, a good, safe hitter.

It has been definitely decided that the Toledo, O., baseball team, which is in the Central League, will practice here next spring before the season opens.

It is said that Robert Wallace, the hard-hitting outfielder formerly with Cairo and last season with Vicksburg, Miss., has his release and is anxious to sign with Paducah.

TORMENTING RHEUMATISM

Columbus, Ohio, May 20, 1903.
Six years ago I had a severe attack of Inflammatory Rheumatism. I was laid up in bed for six months, and the doctors I had did me no good. They changed medicines every week and nothing they prescribed seemed to help me. Finally I began the use of S. S. S. My knee and elbow joints were swollen terribly, and at one time my joints were so swollen and painful that I could not close them when opened. I was so bad that I could not move knee or foot. I was getting discouraged, you may be sure, when I began S. S. S., but as I saw it was helping me I continued it, and to-day I am a sound well man and have never had a return of the disease. S. S. S. purified my blood and cured me of this severe case of Rheumatism after everything else had failed. I have recommended it to others with good results.
R. H. CHAPMAN,
1355 Mt. Vernon Ave.

The poisonous acids that produce the inflammation and pain are absorbed into the blood and Rheumatism can never be conquered till these are neutralized and filtered out of the blood and system. S. S. S. goes directly into the circulation and attacks the disease itself. It purifies and stores the blood to a healthy, vigorous condition. It contains no potash, alkali or other strong minerals, but is guaranteed entirely vegetable. Write us and our physicians will advise with you a charge whatever. Our book on Rheumatism sent free.

SOME RAILROAD YARNS.

Captain Pat Halloran, an old time railroad conductor, and Baggage-master William Flowers, who ran on the roads in his earlier days as baggage-men, met in the Illinois Central baggage room yesterday and were swapping yarns about their experiences.

Mr. Flowers is celebrated over the whole system for his strict adherence to the rules of his company, and while he is civil and accommodating to every one as far as the rules of the road permit, he is not liked by those who attempt to "skin" railroads.

Captain Halloran bore the same reputation as a conductor when he was running on the road, and this is what made both men valuable to the road.

"The most singular request I ever heard of," Mr. Flowers reminiscently remarked, "was on the south end of the road many years ago, when passenger coaches were run on freight trains as accommodation trains. People had queer ideas of the word 'accommodation,' and one time our train was flagged at a little station too small to host of a store, and when the train stopped and the conductor went out to help an old woman on the train, she explained that it was not her intention to ride but she merely wanted the conductor to buy her a spool of No. 8 black thread and throw it off on his return, explaining that her duties would not permit her to make the trip for such a small article when he could throw it off just as easy. Well, the conductor after a few caustic remarks, started his train off.

"The woman said as he mounted the steps: 'I thought this was an accommodation train?'"

Captain Halloran was transferred to the south end of the road and took the Covington and Memphis accommodation run. The people had been in the habit of getting off at Memphis and doing shopping, and if their work was not finished in time for the train, the preceding conductor would wait five or ten minutes. This got the people in the habit of overstaying train time but they always were waited for.

"When I took the run," Captain

Halloran explained, "I told the passengers the first trip out that my train was scheduled to leave at a certain time and if they were not on hand, they would get left. At first I had the entire traveling public down on me, but after several got left the people began to see that I meant business and complaint gradually ceased and I trained the people up to recognize the running schedule.

"There were several traveling men who attempted to impose on the road and did so at every opportunity, and one of these was a Mayfield drummer who would have any where from 200 to 400 pounds excess baggage. He would wait until a few minutes before train time and then come running into the baggage room and in a fluster and hurry would ask that his baggage be checked. He would give the baggage-men, who would not take time to weigh the baggage, about 200 pounds short of his real excess, and would charge the entire amount to his expense account and pocket the rest. I suspected this and a few times that my train was held for his baggage to be checked served to put me on my guard. Look here, Tommie, I said to him, I can't have my train wait for you and the next time you come late I will leave your baggage and have it weighed and the real excess charged. He fretted and fumed and finally threatened to report me. Well, I left his baggage several times and pretty soon Tommie came up with the clean thing and besides the improved schedule time, the road got all coming to it in the way of excess baggage."

"I had a flagman with me named Mike Claire," Captain Halloran continued, "who observed the rules of the company with the same respect I did. The waiting room at Memphis was small in those days and on a cold morning the porter would get in late and would not have a fire going before train time. There was always a fire in the coach but Mike kept the door closed until within 40 minutes of leaving time. Often there would be many passengers on the platform walking about to keep warm, and one morning I asked Mike why he didn't open the door.

"Well, Mr. Halloran," he explained, "the rules say that the doors must not be opened until within 40 minutes of leaving time, and I am going to stick to the directions of the Boss. I told him to do so and from this time on he was known among the traveling men as 'Mike, the man who wouldn't open the door'."

Mike was always making excuses for the road and its employees. "Mike would be standing at the Memphis depot with his hands in his pocket anxiously looking at the clock and then at the train standing ready to go out," Mr. Halloran stated. "Finally when he had held in as long as he could would address the waiting passengers who had not procured tickets on account of the failure of the ticket agent to arrive.

"Well, gentlemen and ladies, the train is ready to go and will be leaving in a few minutes. Here is Mr. Halloran who will collect your tickets, but as yet Mr. Dickey, the ticket agent, has not arrived. Oh am sorry he hasn't but if he had the key he would go in and sell you the tickets himself."

"This seemed to satisfy Mike and put the passengers in a good humor."

SAVED HIS LIFE.

J. W. Davenport, Wingo, Ky., writes, June 14, 1902: "I want to tell you I believe Ballard's Snow Liniment saved my life. I was under the treatment of two doctors, and they told me one of my lungs was entirely gone, and the other badly affected. I also had a lump in my side. I don't think that I could have lived over two months longer. I was induced by a friend to try Ballard's Snow Liniment. The first application gave me great relief; two fifty-cent bottles cured me sound and well. It is wonderful medicine and I recommend it to suffering humanity." 25c, 50c, $1.00. IMMENSE CROWD HEARS FAREWELL

Impressive Services at the First Christian Church.

Rev. Pinkerton, Who Said "Good-bye," Was Recalled By His Congregation.

WILL NOT DECIDE AT PRESENT

The First Christian church was taxed to its capacity last night at the farewell service of the Rev. W. H. Pinkerton. Chairs were in the aisles and the gallery was crowded as well, testifying to the great esteem and affection felt for Mr. Pinkerton, who closed eleven years of loving toil for good in this city. All denominational barriers were down last night, and irrespective of churches and creeds, Christians and non-Christians gathered to do him honor. In the altar with Mr. Pinkerton were Dr. W. E. Cave, of the First Presbyterian, Dr. T. J. Newell, of the Broadway Methodist, Dr. G. W. Perryman, of the First Baptist, and Dr. George O. Bachman, of the Cumberland Presbyterian churches, of the city, and two visiting ministers, Rev. Mr. Hardy, of Nashville, Tenn., and Evangelist Hudspeeth. Some of the churches had no service, and others dismissed early for the occasion. The ministers all took part in the opening and closing service.

Mr. Pinkerton's sermon was a brief and earnest exhortation on the theme "Perfection," along the lines of practical living. He held a living Savior before a dying people and urged their lives be more in accord with the One Perfect Life. He closed with the simple words, "The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, and the love of God, and the communion of the Holy Ghost be with you all. Amen." There were four professions of faith at the close of the sermon.

Dr. G. W. Perryman, as president of the Ministerial Association of the city, took charge of the after service which was a veritable "love feast." He requested that Dr. Bachman, the secretary, read some Resolutions passed by the ministers of the city. They were as follows:

RESOLUTIONS.

Whereas, Rev. W. H. Pinkerton, who has for eleven years served as pastor of the First Christian church of this city, has tendered his resignation, with the intention of removing from our community; and

Whereas, During these eleven years he has been an honored and useful member of the Ministerial Association of Paducah.

Therefore, be it resolved, By the members of this association, that in the removal of Brother Pinkerton the association loses one of its most faithful members; whose genial friendship, wise counsel and hearty co-operation have done much toward making this Association helpful to its membership, and a blessing to our churches and the city.

Be it further resolved, That in the removal of Brother Pinkerton, the city of Paducah loses a valuable citizen, a staunch friend of morality and an efficient aid to good government; the entire community will miss the frankness and candor of this fearless man of God, and the prayers of our membership, as well as that of all God's people, will accompany him to his new field of labor.

Adopted at the regular meeting, October 24th, 1904.

G. W. PERRYMAN, President.
GEORGE O. BACHMAN, Secretary.

A standing endorsement of these resolutions was asked from the congregation, and was heartily responded to.

Short but feeling testimonies from the ministers followed. Dr. Cave, who was here when Mr. Pinkerton came, spoke of their work together and said good words. Dr. Newell, Dr. Bachman, and Dr. Perryman each spoke, and bore testimony to him as a man, a minister of God and a citizen, and of his brotherly welcome to them when they came into the city. Much emotion was evoked during these talks by Mr. Pinkerton's devoted membership, and his response was marked by deepest appreciation and feeling.

Mr. Oscar Starks, of the First Christian church, then moved that the congregation recall Mr. Pinkerton, which motion was put to the congregation by the chairman of the official board, Judge Berry, and adopted by a rising vote of the church.

There is a general hope that Mr. Pinkerton will accede to this most complimentary demand of his church, as he is one of the most universally popular ministers Paducah has ever had. He will take no action at present, as he leaves this week to hold a revival meeting for which he has had an engagement for some time.

BOARD OF HEALTH

A Mild Call-Down for the Hopkinsville Board.

State Organization Threatens a Quarantine Because of Smallpox.

Despite the report from the members of the county board of health of Christian county that in their opinion the smallpox situation was well under control, the state board of health, which met at the Galt House yesterday afternoon ordered Dr. J. B. Jackson, of Hopkinsville, who is chairman of the board of health in Christian county, to hold weekly meetings of his board until the state board is satisfied that all danger is passed, says the Courier-Journal of yesterday. Christian county has been infected with the disease for the past six months, and it has spread to neighboring counties. While the situation is not one to give cause for undue alarm, the state board feels that the disease should be thoroughly stamped out before winter sets in.

The number of cases reported is not large, but they come from widely separated communities in the county, showing that the disease has been general. The county has a large colored population, and it is known that many of the cases have been hid from the officials, and never reported. This has made it difficult to stop its progress.

Dr. McCormack, Bowling Green, president of the state board, said last night that the board would insist upon vaccination and isolation of smallpox patients. "We do not wish to be compelled to quarantine the county, but if smallpox is not soon stamped out there it may be necessary to take action of this sort."

"The drouth has had very little influence upon the general health of the state, and only in a few districts where the wells and springs are very low, its effect is shown in the few cases of typhoid fever which have been reported. On the whole the health of the people throughout the state is very good."

Dr. F. T. Eisenmann, state veterinarian, has been having a busy time, owing to the prevalence of "black leg" among the cattle, especially in Christian and Hart counties.

Yesterday's meeting was attended by every member of the board, and the first examination of applicants under the new law was held.

"Some of them got very good grades," said Dr. McCormack, "while others got the other kind. It will be a matter of personal ability, as every applicant must take the examination whether or not he has a diploma."

GROCERY AFIRE

Bulger's Grocery and Dr. Troutman's Office Damaged.

Blaze in Mechanicsburg About 10 P. M. Does Considerable Damage.

The grocery of Mr. Pete Bulger and the office of Dr. J. S. Troutman, located at the south end of the Third street bridge in Mechanicsburg, were partially burned last night about 10 o'clock.

The fire was discovered and an alarm sent in. Departments Nos. 2 and 4 responded and soon had the blaze extinguished. The fire originated in the rear of the grocery from causes unknown, as there had been no fire about the store in that portion. The fire burned the rear of the grocery and scorched the office of Dr. Troutman. The water did the greatest damage, which will amount to a total of $550, it is estimated, partially covered by insurance.

Mr. Bulger estimates his damage at $400, and is not fully covered by insurance. Dr. Troutman estimates his damage, mostly by water, at $150, fully covered by insurance.

WHY APPENDICITIS?

Why is appendicitis so common today?

Because we have got into the pernicious habit of eating too fast.

Dr. Curtis, the great authority on this disease, says: "Appendicitis often follows the eating of a very hasty, or particularly large or indigestible meal."

After carefully following a foolish custom, you can insure your safety by taking Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

It is an accepted scientific truth, which admits of no dispute, that if you will only keep your digestive apparatus in good order, you will never suffer from this dread disease, which at best, means a weakening operation, with long weeks wasted in bed, and big doctor's and surgeon's bills to pay as souvenirs.

Keep your appendix in health by the proper use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, whenever you have laid yourself open to danger by overeating, and upon the least sign of stomach or intestinal trouble, for otherwise, at any time, this dangerous disease may lay you low.

The curative influence of this great medicine is quickly shown in the gentle, soothing effect it has on all inflamed conditions of any part of the digestive tract.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets tone all these parts up to a proper condition of perfect health, and regulate their functions into a proper working state.

They also make away with all the causes of irritation, inflammation or indigestion, by helping to dissolve, digest and assimilate, or put to proper use, all the food which is lying around in old corners of your digestive apparatus, fermenting, rotting and curdling, like so much garbage in a dirty sink.

In these natural and perfectly simple ways, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets restore all sufferers, from any form of dyspeptic trouble, to health.

They are safe and reliable. They never fail to relieve and cure, quickly and permanently.

Use them, and you need never worry about your appendix verminiformis.

DESERTED CITY.

It Is 2,000 Years Old But Was Once Inhabited.

Tacoma, Wash., Oct. 28.—A discovery has been made in the Andes mountains, 250 miles from Arauco, Chili, of a city deserted for 2,000 years, but once inhabited, presumably by Aztecs of much larger stature than those who lived in Central America, according to the story told by two men just returned from Chili. They expect that their discovery will add to scientific knowledge of South American prehistoric races, and are now hurrying east to present the result of their researches to American and German scientists.

The discoverers of the ancient city are Prof. Emil von Burgers of Berlin, a famous archaeologist of Germany, and William J. Heminway of New York, who has spent several years exploring South American prehistoric races, and of five they have spent a year in South America on a special expedition of exploration. The deserted city was found in a small valley, reached only after weeks of hardships. It was in an excellent state of preservation, the explorers finding stone houses, supposed to have been erected twenty centuries ago, crumbling and grown over with mosses and shrubs, yet standing upright.

Ancient tools of husbandry, household implements of stone and hermetically sealed graves give evidence of a high state of civilization. A large quantity of articles are being taken east. The city comprised 1500 souls. Von Burgers believes that either flood or disease exterminated the prehistoric race, probably the latter.

A Confidence.
(From The New Orleans Picayune.)
"I sometimes feel," bitterly confided the wife of the great poet to her sister, "that I would have been happier with an organ grinder. Then we could, at least, pass the hat around unabashed. The pride that goes with great gifts often walks hand in hand with starvation to satisfy an ordinary woman."

Naval experts have discovered a serious defect in the battleships Ohio, Maine, Missouri, Wisconsin, Alabama and Illinois. The defect consists of the omission of the armor around the after end of the superstructure, which makes the ships vulnerable in a vital part.

NEWS OF THE RIVERS

Mrs. Amelia M. Sebolt, the venerable widow of Captain Henry F. Sebolt, and the highly respected mother of Captain Max Sebolt, well known in Paducah, died at her home in Glenfield, near Pittsburg, on the 25th inst. She was in the seventy-first year of her age.

The San Brown and Enterprise reached Pittsburg with tons of empties Friday.

The Sheridan Kirk Company, of Madison, on Friday gave bond for $120,000 preparatory to building the government dam at Fulton's Riffles. The company is required by law to start the work within thirty days after receiving the contract.

The gauge today is again two-tenths and standing, with no prospect of a rise either above or below. The river men are nearly all idle, and the outlook is most discouraging.

Captain Dan Finney left today for St. Louis to visit the fair.

The City of Charleston will arrive today from Elizabethtown and Golconda and return this afternoon.

The Royal will leave this afternoon for Smithland. She is making daily trips.

The Dick Fowler will possibly run again in the Paducah and Cairo trade, but doubtless only for another season, if at all. A good offer was made the company for the steamer, but it was wanted immediately, and this would leave the Fowler Company without a boat for the Cairo trade. It is probable the Dick will be kept another season and in the meantime a smaller boat secured.

The Lulu Warren will be here tomorrow unless something happens to prevent, and return to Tennessee river Wednesday night.

Captain J. F. Browinski, of Jopka, was here today on business.

An artillery board has submitted a report to the war department fixing the responsibility upon Sergt. Nevins for the explosion at Fort Banks, Mass., October 15, which resulted in the death and injury of several men.

THE NEW LINE

Ballard County Will Give Free Right-of-Way.

Mr. J. J. Freundlich Finds the Electric Road Project is Popular.

J. J. Freundlich, of Paducah, who is at the head of the new electric railway line to run through from Paducah to East Cairo, was in the city a short while Friday afternoon and gave out some interesting facts concerning the coming of the projected line, says the Banner News. There seems now to be no doubt but what the much talked of line will soon be under construction. At Paducah where there was much trouble expected from the city council in granting the right-of-way, when the question was put before the council there at Thursday night's meeting the granting of the right-of-way passed that body by a unanimous vote. However, this was the first reading of the act and it will have to undergo another reading ere it becomes an ordinance. As it passed so unanimously at its first reading, it is highly improbable that it will fail to pass when the second reading takes place which will be sometime next month. Mr. Freundlich stated that the only possible obstacle that could be encountered that would deter the road from being built, would be the refusal of the people whose property the road will touch to grant them a free right of way. We can't speak for McCracken county, but we believe old Ballard's people will readily grant this enterprise free right-of-way. The approximate cost to build the road will be in the neighborhood of $800,000, and just as soon as the right-of-way is secured clear through the work of construction will be rapidly pushed.

MORE CHAIN GANG SUITS.
Harrison Chambers and Louis Beck have filed suits against the city through Attorney Worton for $10,000 damages each for being worked on the streets.

DAILY THOUGHT.

THE WEATHER.

Fair tonight and Tuesday.

THE TWO CANDIDATES.

The fact that Judge Parker owes his nomination to David B. Hill is conceded by everyone. Hill dominated the convention in this state and forced Judge Parker upon it in spite of the protest of Tammany Hall, says the Binghamton, N. Y. Republican.

In the national convention, also, the voice and hand of this democratic Esau were heard and felt in shaping the nomination of Judge Parker. "Blue-eyed Billy" Sheehan was merely Hill's lieutenant, as he has been for fully twenty years.

Now it appears that the vice-presidential candidate, as well as Judge Parker, owes his nomination to ex-Senator Hill; that it was he who made up the combination of vote swapping which resulted in the nomination of both Judge Parker and ex-Senator Davis.

The latter recognized his obligation to ex-Senator Hill in a speech at Rockville, Md., a few days ago. Speaking in the presence of the ex-senator, Mr. Davis said: "I was selected by this distinguished friend, and I suppose I owe him a great deal for the trouble he has got me into."

It is, therefore, clear that if Judge

BUCHANAN--CLEVELAND--PARKER.

Grover Cleveland Compares Parker to Buchanan.—Well, the Democratic ex-President is High Authority For He Followed closely in Buchanan's Footsteps.—For Instance:

From President Buchanan's Annual Message to Congress, 1857.
 "With unsurpassed plenty in all the productions and all the elements of natural wealth our manufactures have suspended; our public works are retarded; our private enterprises of different kinds are abandoned; and thousands of useful laborers are thrown out of employment and reduced to want. We have possessed all the elements of material wealth in rich abundance, and yet, notwithstanding all these advantages, our country in its monetary interest, is in a deplorable condition."

Do we want a Parker message with a similar extract?

Parker and ex-Senator Davis are elected they will be under greater political obligation to David B. Hill than to any other man. That obligation they will be ready to recognize and discharge. What payment, or, rather, what series of payments, Mr. Hill will demand may safely be inferred from the notorious political record he has made in this state. Cool, cunning, resourceful, unscrupulous as to methods, in the measures he will recommend, partisanship will be first and patriotism afterward. The men he will recommend for office are those who have done his bidding, and therefore demonstrated their unfitness for public trust. The reputable element of the democratic party—such men as Mr. Cleveland, Fairchild, Lamont, Olney and their followers—have long refused to have anything in common with Mr. Hill. Judge Parker is one of the few prominent democrats who have "stood in" with the ex-senator, either to repay favors already received or with a hope of favors yet to come.

It will not do to say that Judge Parker's upright life is a guarantee that he will do no unworthy thing. Judge Parker is no more free from personal vices than is Mr. Hill. The judge's service on the bench has given him no chance to exercise a broad discretion, such as the president has. The decisions of the courts are hedged about by precedents and rulings centuries old. Only as a political manager has Judge Parker shown his fitness, or unfitness, to take a broad and lofty view of public questions and affairs. In the pursuit of political game he seems to have followed without complaint through mud and mire wherever Hill's hounds were baying. The fact that the judge's political level has been the Hill level for more than twenty years, that he has never frowned upon Hill's political rascality, but has retained the latter's continued favor and support—this fact fixes Judge Parker's sense of political propriety and decency more accurately than words could describe. Mr. Hill is not supporting candidates who question his methods.

There is an amusing discrepancy in the forecasts of next week's election. Some of the democratic papers in a pitiable effort to boost up a hopeless cause and to prolong to the bitter end their moribund campaign, are making the ridiculous claim that Parker will be elected. Yet odds are 5 to 1 on Roosevelt and the more sensible of the democrats are conceding a republican victory by a large majority, notably the New York Herald, a Parker paper, which gives Roosevelt 18 more than he needs.

By order of the president an employee of the Philadelphia postoffice has been discharged for pernicious activity in collecting campaign funds from republican employees. This should be a pointer to those democrats who delight to howl over the "assessment of federal office holders" in this state. If they know of any republican office-holders doing this it is up to the democrats to report him or them, as the administration at Washington has shown that it is ready to discharge all who deserve it.

IMMENSE CROWD

Greeted Vice President to be Fairbanks at Louisville.

Hon. J. C. Speight May Speak Here the Evening of November 3d, After Judge Holt.

Postmaster F. M. Fisher has returned from Louisville, where he went as a member of the reception committee that met Senator Fairbanks, of Indiana, Saturday and escorted him to Louisville, where he made one of the best speeches of the season to 6,000 or more people.

The reception committee consisted of Richard P. Ernst, chairman of the state committee, former Governor W. O. Bradley, Postmaster T. H. Baker, Louisville R. C. Kinkead, Judge Du Ruelle, Young E. Allison, N. H. Myers and Robert Morris, postmasters at New Albany and Jeffersonville, M. B. Belknap, F. M. Fisher, Paul Burlingame, C. H. McGrover, John Wood, and R. S. Veach and G. W. Jolly. The special train was in charge of C. H. Hungerford, of the Southern railroad. Most of the party was from Louisville. The distinguished speaker was met at Corydon Junction, Ind., and escorted to Louisville.

After the speech the party was entertained at dinner. The crowd that heard Senator Fairbanks at Louisville was one of the largest and most representative on record, although the speaking was at noon, the busiest hour of the day.

The people of Paducah are eagerly awaiting the arrival of Judge W. H. Holt, of Frankfort, who speaks here on the night of November 3d. Judge Holt made an almost world-wide reputation as federal judge in Port o Rico, and is remembered also as the eloquent scholarly gentleman who spoke jointly with Congressman Ollie James several years ago. An effort is being made to have Hon. J. C. Speight, of Mayfield, Republican nominee for congress in this district, to address the voters the same night. Mr. Speight has made an abundance of friends and admirers during this campaign, and his joint meetings with Congressman James have been remarkably free from abuse, animosity and the usual feeling that prevails at political debates.

NOTICE REPUBLICANS.

On account of the speaking of the Hon. Thos. B. McGregor the meeting of the Roosevelt Republican club will be postponed until next Monday night, Nov. 7th. W. J. WHITE, Sec'y.

CARD OF THANKS.

I wish to thank my many friends for the kindness shown me in the sickness and death of my sister, Maggie Briggs. EMMA MAYES.

ELECTION IS NOW ONLY A WEEK OFF

Republicans Have Assurances of an Easy Victory.

The New York Herald, a Parker Paper, Gives Roosevelt 257 Electoral Votes—Parker 159.

SOME OTHER GOOD FORECASTS

New York, Oct. 31.—New York newspapers, the Brooklyn Eagle, Herald and Tribune yesterday published forecasts as to the probable result of the approaching election, national and in this state. The Brooklyn Eagle also forecasts the vote for Greater New York. According to the Eagle, the returns give Parker a plurality in the greater city of 182,922 and Herrick (dem.), for governor, a plurality of 180,072.

The Herald gives Roosevelt 257 electoral votes and Parker 159, with 18 additional votes probably republican, 3 probably democratic and New York, with 39, doubtful. Herrick's election is fore-shadowed.

In the house of representatives there are indicated 210 republicans, 164 democrats and 12 doubtful members. Connecticut, Idaho, Indiana, New Jersey, Rhode Island and Wisconsin are given as republican, and Colorado, Delaware, Montana and West Virginia as probably republican.

From Indiana the Herald obtained three polls made by experienced men each working independently of the others. One was made by a newspaper supporting Parker, which has, with great accuracy, foretold results in the past. Another was made by a Chicago independent newspaper, which is supporting Roosevelt, and still another was made by a newspaper man who has done similar work for the Herald for many years. The result of the inquiries was that each canvass showed the state could go republican, the democratic paper placing the vote for Roosevelt over Parker at 20,000.

The estimated vote for Parker and Roosevelt in New York state shows a difference of only 12,000 votes, the advantage being with Roosevelt.

The Herald gives the following states to Roosevelt by the specified majorities: Indiana, 12,000; Ohio, 69,000; Pacific coast, all on western slope, except Nevada; Kansas, 50,000; Wyoming no figures given; Montana by a small margin; Minnesota by diminished majority North and South Dakota; Wisconsin, 50,000; Nebraska, 50,000; Utah, by big majority; Idaho, 5,000; Connecticut, 15,000; Iowa, 150,000; Pennsylvania, 250,000; Massachusetts, 65,000; Maine no figures; New Hampshire, 20,000; New Jersey, 25,000; Vermont, no definite figures; Rhode Island, no figures; Michigan, 120,000; West Virginia, probably 9,000; Colorado, no figures; Illinois, 100,000.

The Tribune publishes a forecast giving Parker the 151 electoral votes from the southern states, claiming Maryland and Nevada doubtful, and giving Roosevelt 314 votes.

YOU MAY REGISTER

IF YOU WERE ILL OR ABSENT THE OTHER DAYS.

Supplementary registration will be held at the court house tomorrow and Wednesday for all voters who were either out of town or too ill to register on the regular and supplementary registration days. The last legislative passed law requiring the voters in cities where registration is necessary to secure certificates from the precinct officers. Where this was impossible on account of absence from the city or sickness, the county clerk is authorized to issue the certificates on the special registration days.

It has been generally supposed that today, tomorrow and Wednesday were the days for this final registration, but County Clerk Charles Graham said today that under a ruling of the circuit court it is Tuesday, Wednesday and next Monday, hence no one is being registered today, but will be next Monday, in addition to tomorrow and Wednesday.

Among the confirmands are the following:

The pulpit of the Broadway Methodist church was filled yesterday morning by the Rev. P. H. Fields, of Bardwell, Ky., who delivered an able address on "Methodism, Its Work, Its Place, Its Power." It was a scholarly, thoughtful discourse, filled with practical exhortation, and showed Mr. Fields a vigorous thinker as well as a vigorous speaker.

Mr. Fields preached last night at the Trumble street Methodist church. He is a brother of Messrs. Smith and Lewis Fields, the tobaccoists, formerly of this city, and is well known here. He is a leading minister in the Memphis conference.

The revival service will begin at the Cumberland Presbyterian church on next Sunday, and yesterday was a preparation for it. Rev. George O. Bachman preaching in the morning on "Wanted—A Revival." There will be also introductory prayer service on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings of this week.

Dr. Bachman will be assisted by Evangelist E. E. Hendricks, of Nashville, Tenn., and Chorister A. L. Carter.

An interesting service was held last night by the Senior Epworth League of the Broadway Methodist church. It was a men's meeting, that is the program was filled entirely by men. The general subject was "Christ and His Influence as Shown Through the Lives of Three Great Men—John, Peter and Paul." Fine talks were made by Prof. W. H. Sugg, Mr. Julian and Prof. E. G. Payne, who presided. The singing was especially good, a male quartet composed of Messrs. John U. Robinson, Burras and Prof. Payne and Alexander gave some beautiful selections.

The installation service of Rev. W. E. Cave, D. D., as pastor of the First Presbyterian church will take place on Wednesday with appropriate ceremonies. A commission from the Presbytery will arrive to install Dr. Cave.

The Charity club met at 3 o'clock this afternoon with the ministers of the city at the Palmer House. A general discussion of the work and plans for the winter were before the joint meeting.

Tomorrow is All-Saints Day and will be observed by services at the St. Francis de Sales Catholic church at 7 and 9 a. m. and at Grace Episcopal church at 10:30 a. m.

Wednesday will be All-Souls Day and there will be requiem high mass at 7:30 a. m. at the St. Francis de Sales Catholic church.

PETTY THIEVES ANNOY THE PEOPLE

Much Pilfering Going on About the City.

Abe Maroffski's Saloon Broken Into —Fare Boxes on Street Car Demolished.

A FEW OTHER POLICE NOTES:

Petty thieves seem to have broken loose again in Paducah, and numerous thefts of overcoats, provisions from ice boxes and pantries, bicycles, chickens and small burglaries, have been reported to the police. Another thing that is annoying the people, as well as the police, is the persistent manner in which some miscreant or miscreant are driving people's horses off.

The butchers and marketers have complained recently of this, and it is believed that the guilty persons are boys. A few years ago several boys for several weeks made a practice of driving away horses left hitched by their owners, but were finally caught.

One butcher on the market Saturday night found about 6 o'clock that his horse had disappeared, and "laid" for the persons who took it away. About 8 o'clock a couple of boys came driving into the alley near the market house. The animal had been driven until it was covered with perspiration and almost ready to fall in its tracks. The boys were shaken until their teeth rattled, and will probably not be back again for many a day.

Abe Maroffski, the saloon keeper at Second and Kentucky Avenue, ascertained when he got up this morning about 4:30 o'clock that his cash register had been robbed. He has about $34 in it, and this, with a pistol, is all he missed. The thieves seem to have entered through the kitchen up stairs, and got out the same way. It is not known whether anything except the money and pistol were taken, or not, but the police have a clue, and are at work on the case.

Sometime last night a miscreant boarded Car No. 65, which is being used between First and Fifth streets while the tracks are torn up, and demolished both fare boxes. The thief glass was broken with a piece of iron used by shoemakers on which to hammer a shoe sole, but not a cent was secured, as no money is now deposited in fare boxes, the cars all having conductors on them. The would-be thief was doubtless someone not familiar with the well known fact that the fare boxes are not used now. The damage to the car which was standing down near the foot of Broadway at the time, will not amount to a great deal.

Officer John McCune is off on his vacation today. Only one officer took vacation this week, but Extra Officer Scott Ferguson is in St. Louis, which leaves but one extra man here to relieve the regulars who want to take a vacation.

James Thornton is under arrest charged with malicious cutting, and Ed. Butler is in bed painfully wounded, the result of a cutting scrape yesterday at the Benson boarding house near Third and Adams streets.

Both men board at the Benson house and are said to have been drinking. Last evening about 6:30 o'clock they got into a dispute which ended in Thornton pulling out a small pocket knife and cutting

Butler four times on different portions of his body.

Thornton was arrested by Officer Dick Woods and this morning was granted a continuance until Wednesday. He is a blacksmith and will give bond. Butler is not seriously injured. He was attended by Dr. D. T. Stuart, who says he will be out in a day or two.

William Edmunds, alias William Tilley, colored, who was arrested Saturday night by Officers Gourieux and Potter as a suspect, is being held until word can be gotten from Madisonville, Ky., where the police think he is wanted.

The local authorities have a description of a negro wanted at that city for shooting at a policeman, and Edmunds answer to the description minutely and moreover confessed to another negro that he did shoot at a policeman at Madisonville or Earlinton. He denied this to the police, but is being held until the police can get some word. Yesterday the telephone exchange operators were unable to get the authorities at Madisonville and another attempt will be made today.

Dave Cassell, formerly night watchman at the local I. C. freight house, and lately acting patrol driver, has gone to work on the police force as extra officer, and is acting for Officer John McCune, who is off on his vacation this week.

A $700 VERDICT FOR MANGLED ARM

Another Damage Suit Decided in Circuit Court.

A Number of Small Cases in Judge Sanders' Court This Forenoon.

DOINGS IN THE OTHER COURTS

This morning the suit of Eveline P. Lyons against the Mergenthaler-Horton Mangle Machine Co. for $5,000 damages, was given to the jury and after being out a short time, a verdict for $700 damages was returned.

The girl was an employee of the defendant and through defective machinery, alleges she got her arm crushed and permanently injured. The case had been on trial since Saturday morning and was left open until this morning when taken up again.

Attorneys Wheeler, Hughes and Berry represented the defense, and Attorneys Campbell, Campbell and Campbell the plaintiff.

J. Bamberger, Gus E. Holt, T. F. James, L. K. Hunt, G. W. Scott and W. J. Morgan were excused as petit jurors and Frank Dunn, B. J. Hovecamp, A. L. Coats, J. W. Bryan, G. E. Hank and Duke Williams substituted.

The cases of L. E. Stevenson, administrator, against the I. C. railroad, and Annie Nichols against the I. C. railroad, were continued. They are the suits growing out of the accident when a party of picnickers were killed and injured near Dawson during the annual I. C. picnic.

The plaintiff in the case of the Fractional Construction Co., of Keokuk, against the Jackson Foundry & Machine Co., filed a motion with reasons for a new trial. MANY APPLICANTS

COUNTY JUDGE LIGHTFOOT HAS NOT APPOINTED A CORONER.

County Judge R. T. Lightfoot, who has the appointment authority to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Coroner William Peal, has been besieged by applicants for the office. He stated this morning that many persons have spoken to him for the place but he had not decided when to make the appointment. Among those favorably mentioned is former Marshal James F. Crow.

Judge Lightfoot laughingly remarked today that for prudential reasons none of the undertakers had applied for the place. This is the first time none of the undertakers asked to be coroner.

For many years the coroner was always one of the undertakers.

—Today laborers began excavating in the courthouse yard for the steam heating pipes. The street excavations have been finished up to Sixth street on Washington and it will require but little time after the excavations have been completed in the court yard before the building will be heated.

COST OF PHILIPPINES

Grossly Exaggerated Statements
Reiterated by Judge Parker
In Recent Speech.

Shows Narrowness or Obstinacy in Repeating Previous Errors Officially Corrected.

[Washington Dispatch to the New York Tribune.]

The avidity with which Judge Parker and ex-Secretary Olney swallowed the statement that the Philippines had cost this country $650,000,000 and the pertinacity with which they cling to it after its falsity has been proved again and again are past the comprehension of persons in Washington who are familiar with the real conditions in the Philippines.

That the cost of the Philippines, including the $20,000,000 paid to Spain, amounted, up to May 1, 1902, to $189,000,000 has been established beyond dispute. No Democratic member of either house of congress has dared to challenge Secretary Root's statement to that effect. The cost to this country for the following year has been shown to be $3,080,000, and for the year just ended $2,100,000, a total of $194,180,000. That has been the actual cost of the Philippines up to June 30, 1904.

The statement Mr. Parker permitted himself to repeat when he declared that "over 200,000 lives have been sacrificed" is equally false. The total loss of life of American troops and Filipinos in the American army from all causes has amounted to 4,067 privates and 155 officers, a total of 4,222 men. Even adding to this number the loss of Filipino insurgents, a liberal estimate of which is less than 10,000, the grand total aggregates 14,000 against Mr. Parker's 200,000. Moreover, the totals here given include deaths from wounds, sickness, drowning and other accidents, and, an important contributory cause, the contagious diseases which, unrestrained, ravaged Americans and Filipinos when American occupation began. Only 126,000 American soldiers, all told, have been sent to the Philippines.

As an offset to this loss of life should be set the magnificent work of the army medical corps and of the health officers of the Philippine commission, whose unremitting efforts have stamped out the plague, reduced smallpox and other contagious diseases to a minimum and rendered the Philippines as healthful as Cuba.

That unintelligent campaign speakers should voice the extravagant charges of the partisan press without taking the trouble to investigate them, especially in the face of the testimony of high minded and unimpeachable witnesses, is a source of amazement. The insular bureau points to the interview with the Most Rev. J. J. Hart, the Roman Catholic archbishop of Manila, cabled from the Philippines, as indisputable evidence of existing conditions in the Philippines. Archbishop Hart's testimony agrees with that of Dr. Brent, the Episcopal bishop of Manila, who is now in this country. The archbishop, after returning from an extended tour through the islands, declared his hope that Theodore Roosevelt would be elected president of the United States and said:

"I was impressed during my journeyings by the progress of American institutions among the masses of the people, the general happiness, the security of person and property and the supremacy of order and justice. I believe that under divine guidance the beneficent rule of America is destined ultimately to place the Christian Malay race on a moral and political plane that as yet has never been attained by an oriental people. This task that the Americans have assumed they cannot shrink or abandon. This work that Governor Taft so auspiciously began and that Governor Wright continues must be carried to a triumphant conclusion."

Archbishop Hart is eminently qualified to judge of the situation. In his nine months' residence at Manila he has held exhaustive conferences with the bishops and provincial priests. He has spent months living with the people, traveling practically alone and unguarded even in the remotest provinces, inspecting parishes and visiting the people in their homes. In some of the districts he visited it had been thirty years since a bishop had been there.

Nor is the testimony of these churchmen isolated. Every one who has had an opportunity to judge of conditions in the Philippines as they actually exist brings to Washington the same story of progress. The Philippine government is being judiciously administered, the people are prosperous, Christianity is thriving under the freedom of American policies, and the pernicious influence on a few excitable Filipinos of the false assertions of Democratic candidates and speakers is now the only menace to uninterrupted peace and prosperity in the Philippines.

A Menacing Threat.
[From the Louisville Herald.]
The Democracy, by denouncing protection as robbery, has put the workman's full dinner pail, his home, his children's food, clothing and schooling, his wife and family's legitimate comforts in jeopardy. It menaces likewise the enterprise and profits of capital. It threatens a return of the stringency and stagnation of ten years ago.

PARKER A DISAPPOINTMENT.

Strained Silence Disguises His Supporters.

[From the Boston Transcript.]
It has become a comical thing in New York—comical to the Republicans, but tragic to the Democrats—the behavior of Judge Parker when he comes to town. He goes to his hotel. He shuts himself up. Nobody can see him but the persons with whom he has appointments, and they tell nothing that he says. He has not spoken to the public on one of these visits nor by any chance to any one who will speak to the public. He has now been in New York nearly a dozen times since he was nominated. At first he has spent only a night, but now he stays days at a time, and he has practically taken personal charge of the campaign. He has secret audiences with men all day every day he has been here, and yet no reporter of a single paper has caught a word that he has said except two or three remarks about the weather. Nor does the public know what he does or what he says in his political conferences. At the recent reception given to him at the Manhattan club he would not speak. Such a silent candidate for the presidency not only was never heard of before, but no man would have been believed who should have said that any candidate for the presidency could be so silent. Every conceivable effort has been made to induce him to make at least one public address during the campaign. But it is given out that he is immovable in his silent resolution.

But Mr. Parker has a studied silence that is driving his supporters almost to madness, for they are beginning to ask: Is it studied? Can he be? Did he ever talk? Has he anything to say? Did he ever say anything that the people could understand or care to hear, his one famous telegram always excepted? The fear is creeping over them that perhaps he has nothing to say except such argumentative doctrinal things as go to make official speeches and letters of acceptance.

There is something almost stupid in such conduct. This is the talk you may now hear in disappointed Democratic circles. What's a candidate for but to make as favorable an impression as possible on the public? Especially what is the bounden duty of a silent and unknown candidate but to say something, so that the people may come to know him?

HE DOES THINGS.

A Brief Sketch of Our President's Record.

[From the Troy (N. Y.) Times.]
What President Roosevelt has done in office is so great and comprehensive as to add a new chapter to American history. In Cuba and the Philippines, in maintaining the supremacy of the United States in the affairs of the American continent, in cutting through the isthmus the canal for which a century had hoped, in defending American citizenship abroad, in purifying every department in which a taint might show, in appreciating and treating with proper respect the new conditions which the immense growth of commerce and industry established, in enforcing the law against trusts, in becoming himself the most conspicuous illustration of the superiority of arbitration to war and, while performing almost stagger the mind to contemplate, in devoting himself to such physical exercise as has been necessary to preserve his health and in continuing to be in family life a type of the head of an American household, Theodore Roosevelt has shown himself to be not only a man who does things, but who does great things and does them grandly.

Is it surprising that he should be an example for the young men of the country? Is it surprising that there is not a mother in the whole country who would not rejoice to see her boy become such a man as Theodore Roosevelt? Is it surprising that the youth of America look to their president as not only a model, but also as a chosen leader?

That decisive day in November will show that the sturdy youth of a vigorous nation rejoice in a man who does things.

Impudence and Dishonesty of Richard Olney.

[From the New York Press.]
Nothing that the Parker canvass can possibly produce from now till election day will astonish us. The limit is reached. The utmost pinnacle of impudence has been scaled. After seeing Richard Olney point out to Theodore Roosevelt how to suppress illegal monopolies there is nothing in the way of audacity of which the Democratic campaigners are incapable.

Mr. Olney refers contemptuously to the Northern Securities suit as evidence that nothing in the way of trust regulation has been accomplished "further than to furnish Republican orators something to talk about."

There remain the facts, candidly admitted by the chief Parker organ in New York city, that—
"The anti-trust law was framed by a Republican, was passed by a Republican house and a Republican senate, was signed by a Republican president."
"The first effort to enforce the law was made by Theodore Roosevelt, a Republican president." (After President Cleveland had let the law lie a dead letter on the statute books during his last term.)

"The first attorney general to vigorously prosecute offenders and to test the law was a Republican attorney general, Philander C. Knox." (After Richard Olney, a Democratic attorney general, had pretended that the law was unconstitutional and would not prosecute its violators.)

FATHOMS DEEP

[Copyright, 1904, by T. C. McClure.]

One day as we of the American brig Sally were cutting in a whale to the north of St. Helena the English bark Empress came up from the south, and the two craft remained in company for three or four hours. The Empress had been out of port forty days without a capture, and crew and captain were disgusted. More than that, she had been through a severe gale and had three men hurt and had lost sails and topmasts. Captain Travers was a fine seaman and an old whaler, but the Empress had not even yet lowered for a whale.

Two weeks later, just after we had got in another whale and scrubbed our decks and while we were under easy sail to the south of the island, we lowered for a school of whales and got two.

We were making our captives fast to the ship when the Empress came down on us from the east. She was now fifty-four days out, and ill luck still pursued her.

As I was third mate of the Sally, I had opportunity to discover the state of feeling aboard the bark. Her crew was on the verge of mutiny, and Captain Travers had become alarmed for the safety of his ship.

He had been aboard us for a couple of hours talking things over when a monster whale broke water within a half mile of the two craft. We put the man aboard of his ship as soon as possible, but long enough before he reached her his mates had lowered and were away.

There were those aboard the Empress who said that it was the same whale which had been met with before and had escaped them. At any rate, he had a harpoon sticking in him and was badly tangled up in a line. He was rolling on the surface when both boats came up and made fast at the same moment. For twenty seconds after being struck the monster did not move a fin. Then he started off with a rush and made a complete circle around both ships, leaving such a wake behind him that there were times when we lost sight of the boats in the foam.

Having completed the circle, the leviathan slewed about until he was head-on to the first mate's boat. He lay for a moment, swinging his lower jaw to right and left in a vicious way, and then made a rush. The boat attempted to shoot ahead and avoid him, but he caught her amidships with a swing of that terrible jaw and left only fragments behind as he headed between the two ships and went off to the south. The second mate's boat was obliged to cut loose to pick up the other crew, but three men, one of whom was the chief mate, had lost their lives.

When the extent of the calamity became known aboard the Empress open mutiny resulted. The men demanded that she head away for Bristol, and two hours later she was homeward bound. Never did a more disgruntled crew reach port. The owners at once removed Captain Travers from command and gave him a bad name, and the crew had to dodge to escape arrest for their mutiny. The bark laid up for three months until the affair had passed out of public mind, and she was then prepared for another cruise. She had lost prestige, but there was no lack of applicants when she was ready for sea. The new commander was named Thorndyke, and on leaving port he told the owners that he would return with a full ship or not at all.

We in the Sally were cruising east and west, taking a whale occasionally, when the Empress came down on us for the third time. She had made the trip from Bristol without sighting a spot.

Two days later we sighted her again. Neither craft had raised a whale meanwhile, but as we were passing each other within a quarter of a mile and exchanging signals a mighty leviathan broke water within a cable's length of the bark. He was so close to her that we had no show and did not lower. He was a lone whale, and we no sooner had him under our glasses than we knew him to be a fighter. He had a half dozen scars on his head, and the way he rolled about showed his temper. As he was head-on to us, he must have seen both the ships as well as the boats, but he made no move until one of the boats was close upon him and ready for a dart.

The boat had made a half circle to get out of his line of vision and approach him broadside on, but he heard the approach and indulged in a strange maneuver. Few men ever saw a whale back water, and there are plenty of old whale men who contend that he cannot. This whale, however, backed a distance of 100 feet, and with amazing swiftness, too, and, striking the boat with his flukes, he killed four men and reduced her to match wood.

Then he started straight for the Empress, and his rush was that of an avalanche. He was under the full view of her crew, but the ship was lying to and therefore perfectly helpless. Had she been a steamer instead of a sailing vessel she could not have avoided that rush. On the Sally every man of us had his eyes on the whale when he struck the Englishman on the port bow, and we plainly heard the crash of planks and timbers.

After the shock he backed off and settled down and was seen no more, but in ten minutes the Empress was at the bottom of the sea. Not a man saved even an extra jacket. There was scarce time for them to lower their boats when the bark pitched head under for a grave on the bottom a mile below, and the story of her ill luck was finished at last. M. QUAD.

PREFERS BARE FEET.

Peru, Ind., Man Says He Goes With Feet Unclad for Comfort.

Logansport, Ind.—With the collar of a heavy winter coat turned high about his neck to protect that portion of his anatomy from the fast falling temperature Heckiah Williams, who said his home was in Peru, mingled with the crowds on Logansport streets, his feet as unprotected as on the day of his birth.

His pedal extremities, minus any covering whatever, attracted not a little attention and comment.

Williams was apparently unconscious that his wardrobe was depleted. Many were at first inclined to believe that he was taking the Kneipp consumption treatment, but his robust physique dispelled that theory. When asked his reasons for going without shoes he made the statement that he did so for comfort and economy rather than for style. His coat was of the spike tail variety. He left for his home in the evening by the traction route.

Getting Back at Him.

[From the Chicago Tribune.]
Member of Congregation—Doesn't your husband sometimes find subjects for his discourse when he is on his vacations?

Mrs. Fourthly—Often. I remember the sermon he preached after he had come back from his first voyage on an ocean steamer. It was on the parable of the unjust steward.

CURES WINTER COUGH.

J. E. Gover, 101 N. Main St., Ottawa, Kan., writes: "Every fall it has been my wife's trouble to catch a severe cold, and therefore to cough all winter long. Last fall I got for her a bottle of Horehound Syrup. She used it and has been able to sleep soundly all night long. Whenever the cough troubles her, two or three doses stops the cough, and she is able to be up and well." 25c, 50c, $1.00. Sold by DuBois, Kolb & Co.

"Look you"—He broke off and pointed with his stick where a couch bowed along High street. It was richly furnished and bore arms on its panels. On the cushions, exquisitely dressed in a white uniform, sat a blocky, military looking man with bushy wavy and foreign mustachios. He wore a cocked hat.

"Tis M. Piarne," said the Quaker. "These French parasites with powder to peddle, Friend Joseph, would joy to see the colonies plunged into bloody strife. They would batten on our extremity, for whosoever the carcass is, there the eagles be gathered together."

"French officers!" ejaculated Galloway. "Aye, or adventurers! As like to be one as another. Mayhap M. Piarne goes to see the precious envoy whose newcoming the town gossips about."

"He is to be received?" "Tis an open secret. Notice was sent the house this morning."

"Twas averted in the street but now that he is come from Louis XVI." "Let them jabber!" grumbled Galloway. "Little store to be set by their fine envoys. I mind you when the Frenchman came to the congress last November. You heard of that, mayhap. There was the same excitement; a committee appointed, too, I remember. John Jay was upon it. They met the personage in a room in Carpenter's hall, and what think you they found? Why, a little old frog eater with a club-foot, who when they asked him for his authority drew his hand across his throat, and says he, 'Gentlemen, I shall take care of my head.' That was all they could get out of him. Some imbecile fellow. And even then there were those who saw great signs in it. A pest on all such, say I!"

The Quaker shook his head doubtfully. "Yet there is much hoped for from this present message," he said. "I heard it on good authority some months ago that a French marquis was to come hither. 'Twas said Benjamin Franklin had written of the matter from London. Mayhap this is the same."

"Fosh! Fosh! Galloway. 'Tis absurd, say, the faith that is put in such a vain and empty hope! I do know that half the delegates have some such folly in their heads. The Declaration is to be offered for signing tomorrow, and, look you, it is in the minds of some members to retard action upon it, hoping such a message from France may bolster faint hearts."

"Then dost not think they will sign, then?" "God forbid!" rejoined Galloway fervently. "I cannot believe we are so near madness as that. And yet I would that naught had been heard of a message from France. Methinks tomorrow will be warm. Good night to you, Mordecai."

As the two friends talked the chiming had clanged from Christ church, and just as the tones sounded a stout-trunked old man with a shrewd, simple face under a broad hat lifted the latch of a nearby gate which barred an oblong green yard from the street.

Therein under a mulberry tree where yellow cabbage butterflies were kissing wings a chubby woman was sitting by a table whereon stood some books and a glass bottle containing a two-headed snake in spirits. Two tousled children rolled and romped unheeded under foot. The film of twilight was falling from a cooling sky.

"You are late, father," the woman said as the old man greeted her. "Supper is almost ready. Young Mr. Jefferson has sent word that he will be here this evening. I do hope," she added good naturedly, "that you won't sit up all night again over that tiresome paper he is writing. Laws! One would think it had been a real speech."

She ran to fetch a dish of tea, and her father sat down in his chair and took off his hat. His head was bald with a fringe of white hair. He was mopping his forehead with a large kerchief when she returned with the tea.

"Bless me!" she said as the gate clicked. "Here is some one to see you already. A young man and handsome," she whispered, as he came nearer, "but how pale!" It was Armand.

"Is this Dr. Franklin?" he inquired. "It is."

"Sir," said Armand, "a packet was given secretly into your hands to hold for me some time since, sealed with a red seal bearing your name."

Dr. Franklin drew his brows together with a glance of surprise and shook his head.

"Surely you have received it?" "There was a curious rigor of anxiety in the tone that caused Dr. Franklin to glance sharply at his questioner. The scrutiny satisfied him, for the look of suspicion that had been stiffened by the strenuous times faded into his habitual benevolence."

"I recall none such," he answered gravely. "What name did it bear?" "It bore no name." The tone shook now with a confusion of apprehension.

"I fear that is all the more reason that I could not have forgot it. These are troublous days, sir, and faith not always to be relied upon. To whom did you intrust this document?" "Something like fear had come into the other's eyes, and Dr. Franklin for the first time noted with concern his agitation and pallor.

"To a young lady of Virginia." "I am sorry, sir, deeply sorry," said the old man, "but no such packet has been put into my hands at any time."

"Poor young man!" sighed the motherly woman a few minutes later as she set the table for supper. "What think you could have been in it, father? He looked as if it had meant life or death to him."

Armand walked slowly through several side streets to the Red Lion tavern, on Sassafras street, one of the less pretentious inns. Here in a dim parlor on the ground floor waited the occupant of the fine coach which had roused

"Is this Dr. Franklin?" the speech of Joseph Galloway. His hat was flung on a chair, and he strode up and down, his mustachios bristling with impatience.

As Armand entered he embraced him effusively in the French fashion. "All goes well," he cried. "I have been discreet and have done all you instructed. The congress has named three members to receive you tomorrow at 1 o'clock. Ventrebleu! With the Declaration hanging fire you may believe how eager they are. I have brought your clothes too. Nom de Dieu!" he exclaimed, holding Armand's arms affectionately. "To know you were in a British prison! Thank God you escaped their clutches, and just in the nick of time too! You shall tell me about it one day."

"Piarne!" Armand broke in upon the other's chatter. "Piarne! The letter! I have not got it!" "Not got it?" Piarne repeated in amazed surprise.

"No, I sent it here to Philadelphia to Dr. Franklin. I did not tell you this, since I expected to find it here. Well, I have seen Dr. Franklin, and it has not been delivered."

Piarne's face was a study of dismay. "And what will you do?" "Armand had no time to reply, for at that moment there came a knock at the door, and it opened.

Instantly Piarne bent low in a series of bows to Armand.

"Accept my most profound salutations, monsieur," he said in tones of elaborate ceremony. "I shall be pleased to accompany you on your distinguished errand tomorrow afternoon."

"M. Piarne," said Armand easily, "this is my good friend, Captain Jarret. Au revoir, monsieur—jusqu'au matin!"

CUBAN GOVERNMENT.

Diaz Says Will Ask Admission to Union At Early Date.

Houston, Tex., Oct. 3.—In conversation with Colonel F. N. Gray and Dr. S. A. Knapp, Secretary Manuel L. Diaz of the Cuban government, expressed the belief that within five years the Cuban republic would ask for admission to the United States as a state. He does not believe that there will be any trouble in securing admittance when the proper time arrives, as the Cubans have demonstrated their ability to govern themselves. They will desire the step as a means of promoting their own interests, and there will be no opposition, in the opinion of Senor Diaz.

The President Would Do and Did.

(From the Boston Pilot.)

While J. J. Roche was having a chat with President Roosevelt in the White House last week the telephone bell was ringing somewhat persistently. There being no attendant at hand the president excused himself and went to answer the repeated call. This is the conversation that took place on the line, according to the testimony of the distinguished gentleman at the president's end of it:

"Well, what is it?"

"Hello, is Archie there?"

"No, he is not."

"Who is this I'm talking to?"

"The president."

"Well, you'll do. Tell Archie to come over and play ball."

And the president proceeded to execute the order, as directed.

The Arizona Kicker

Some Lively Items From the Pen of an Editor Who Has No Fear of Anybody.

It took just four minutes the other day to give County Coroner James a first class licking for calling us a liar, and we think the public will find him a changed and humble official.

A man named Saunders from Illinois is going to start a weekly paper called the Eagle at Lone Jack. If Mr. Saunders can shoot two-handed and has got teeth like a grizzly bear he may succeed, but if not his Eagle will lose its tail feathers within a month.

The expense of making the postoffice in this town bullet proof has all been borne by us and not by the government. Uncle Sam simply puts us in charge and expects us to take care of ourselves. The cost was $65, but we don't begrudge it.

As president of the common council we keep a gun on our desk during each session, but it is more for ornament than use. Since Alderman Finnegan resigned there has been no disturbance we could not quiet with a yell.

Mr. Thomas Jackson, who posed as a terror from Terrorville, left town suddenly last Tuesday night and will probably not return. If this meets his eye he will be delighted to know that he was just fifteen minutes ahead of the vigilance committee.

We understand that Colonel Ransom's cowboys hung a stranger one day last week for horse stealing, and two hours after he was dead they discovered that he was an innocent man. Such mistakes are inseparable from a strenuous life and should not be made too much of.

It is our regular day for lying about the circulation of the Kicker, and we therefore proceed to announce that the figures have reached 4,500,000 and are bumping along like a jackass rabbit pursued by a pack of wolves. If this thing keeps up for another year we shall have to buy another hand press and hire another boy.

We do not like to criticize any action of our esteemed contemporary, feeling rather to pity than condemn him, but we wish he would be consistent.

HE REFUSED TO WASH HIS SHIRTS. He is howling just now for a war with China, and the reason thereof is because the local Chinese laundries refuse to wash his shirts and trust him for the pay.

The editor of the Kicker travels occasionally, and all reports floating around to the effect that he blows out the gas in his room at hotels or is ever ready to buy gold bricks at a bargain are simply canards emanating from jealous minded contemporaries.

Mr. Williams, the bustling proprietor of the Green Front drug store, has had the misfortune to kill another Chinaman by giving him arsenic in place of salts. This is the third case within a year, we believe, and the druggist has the sympathy of the public. We all understand that no one can hustle in this country without leaving a dead man here and there on the trail.

The position of city marshal is vacant again through the resignation of Jim Adams. Jim decided after being wounded five times that there was too much shooting for the salary of $12 per week. Applicants for the place will file their names at the mayor's office. No cross eyed men taken, and all applicants will be required to pull a gun and open fire inside of four seconds.

Getting Back.

"Our competitor now has all his packages marked 'Beware of Imitations,'" said the senior partner of the new firm. "That's a slap at us."

"Well, we'll get back at him," replied the junior partner. "We'll have all our packages marked 'Beware of the Genuine.'"—Philadelphia Press.

Reckless.

Kitty—Oh, auntie, I am so happy! Hence says there's nobody in all the world like me. Aunt Jane—Nonsense! You're not so eccentric as all that, although there's no denying you are a bit odd.—Boston Transcript.

He Knew It.

"Crude petroleum is good for the hair," said Barlow.

"I know it," replied Mullins. "Since the general use of oil as an insect eradicator the mosquitoes have begun to raise whiskers."—Judge.

Use Shoffner's Sure Cure

The Great Tonic and Blood Purifier—Cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia and Catarrh.

It is a trite and true saying that the "blood is the life." Now where does the blood come from? Everybody knows, or should know, that it comes from the nutritive elements extracted by the stomach from the food we eat. If the digestive organs do not perform their functions by reason of disease germs, there is no nutrition extracted, and the food might better be thrown in the dump to decay and breed germs in the open air than to remain in the stomach and become a rotten, putrid mass, as it naturally does if there is no digestion. No disease germ can live and find lodgment in a human body that uses the Shoffner's Sure Cure. Price $1.00
